

Christmas comes early for our Chinchilla children

Murphy Pipe and Civil hopes local children get right into the festive spirit during the Community Christmas Party being held in Chinchilla's main street on December 15th.

The pipeline construction company, which has been working in the gas fields for the past 12 months, dug deep to come on as an event sponsor to ensure all entertainment for children was free during the street party.

Children's entertainment during the Christmas Party will include free rides, face painting, balloons, fairy floss and snow-cones and a fly-in visit from Santa.

MPC Project Manager John Sharman said the sponsorship was just a small way of saying thank you to the community for the warm welcome the company had received since establishing itself in Chinchilla.

"Our employees have lived and worked in Chinchilla for the past year and wanted to show appreciation for the hospitality locals had shown the company since arriving in town," Mr Sharman said.

"Christmas Party organisers from the Chinchilla Community, Commerce and Industry Inc have pulled out all stops to ensure a great time for local families and Murphy Pipe and Civil is pleased it could get behind the event to help make it a huge success.

"Social events like these are the glue that holds a town together and they provide a great opportunity for locals to celebrate and be a part of Chinchilla's community spirit.

"We hope local kids have a ball during the party and enjoy all the night's entertainment on us."

Mr Sharman said the sponsorship was part of Murphy Pipe and Civil's commitment to its community sponsorship program which this year had supported Chinchilla's State Primary School trail ride fundraiser, the annual rodeo, pony club events and the local Spiritus organisation.

Ends.
